EDUCATIONAL COLUMN.

G. L. EBERHART, Editor.

BEAVER, March 25, 1868.

[ALL COMMUNICATIONS FOR THIS DEPARTMENT OF THE PAPER, MUST BE ADDRESSED TO G. L. EBERHART, NEW BRIGHTON, PA.]

We are gratified to lay before our readers the following article from the pen of Prof. James Whithani, our county Superintendent.

Parents Should visit their Schools.

When we consider the object which our common schools are designed to accomplish, and the very important interest parents have in them, we believe no other institution in our county should be more highly prized or more kindly encouraged. In our common schools a large majority of our children must be educated, if educated at all. Here the plastic minds of children are being molded and fashioned into being, here they must be cared for, Physically, Intellectually and Morally, that they may become good men and women, useful citizens qualified to perform well their part in life. Hence, in proportion as parents have the welfare of their children at heart, as they hold them dearer than anyother earthly possession, in the same proportion should they be interested in their early training. It is not enough that a school tax is paid, teachers employed, schools kept open four or five months in each year, and children permitted to attend them a part of the time. Parents should visit their schools when in operation to see if they are places in which the wants of their children can be supplied properly, to see if their little folks are comfortable, and to become acquainted with the teacher and learn something of what he is doing towards building up an education for their children. Parents have an opportunity in the way of contributing to the efficiency of their schools. The teacher will appreciate their kind attention he will feel that he is no longer a solitary individual shut out from the sympathies of his employers, and will thus be buoyed up and strengthened for the performance of the responsible duties developing upon him. Children too will take more interest in their schools and in their studies. Children are generally interested in whatever interests their parents, therefore, if parents would visit their schools frequently, and make them a subject of conversation at home, thus showing by their action that the acquisition of knowledge is esteemed by them of more importance than the acquisition of wealth, children would be more anxious to attend school regularly, they would study more diligently and progress more rapidly and as a consequence there would be less difficulty and fewer failures in regard to government. Old dilapidated school houses (a number of which can be found in Beaver county,) furnished, in many instances, with injurious school furniture, would soon be replaced with new and elegant school rooms, furnished with suitable furniture and supplied with necessary apparatus. It cannot be in an intelligent community that farmers will insist on having their stock all comfortably housed and properly cared for, and at the same time send their children to some miserable hut called a school house, in which not only the comfort but the health of children is put in jeopardy. The foregoing are some among the many reasons that might be given why parents should visit their schools.

J. WHITHAM.

Why is It?

We have in our county about two hundred persons, male and female, who are known as school teachers, every one of whom should feel proud of their vocation and avail themselves of every means calculated to render them intelligent and honorable members of their profession.

In addition to their knowledge of the branches which they teach, it is fair to presume that they posses, or at least are striving to attain a fund of general information; and especially such information as pertains to educational matters. Among other means to attain such knowledge, periodicals, edited and conducted in the especial interests of education are the best: and one would suppose that every teacher who has the least claim to respectability in the profession would be a subscriber to at least one educational journal.

In our State we have the Pennsylvania School Journal, which, by legislative enactment, is the official organ of the Department of Common Schools. In it are published all current legislation upon education, and the decisions of the State Superintendent upon all doubtful and disputed points of school law, and questions requiring official adjudication. We find in it monthly summaries of everything done in our State, and much that is done in other States, in educational matters. It gives notices and reviews of new school books and apparatus, and much other information of interest and prime importance to teachers; so that each volume forms a history of the educational work in our State for the scholastic year in which it was published. The Journal is so cheap, too—only one dollar per annum—that we are surprised that it is taken by comparatively few of the teachers of the State, and by less than five in Beaver county! We think this fact, to say the least of it, a very severe reflection upon the general intelligence of our teachers; and we have taken this means of calling their attention to the subject with the hope that it will induce them at once to take such action as shall very soon, if not immediately, place their record much higher than it now stands in this one vital particular.

Popular Physics.

We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of Peck's Ganot from the publishers, A. S. Barnes & Co., of New York. For intermediate classes we think it one of the best, if not the best, text-book upon Natural Philosophy now before the public. It is finely and profusely illustrated, and its mechanical execution we have never seen excelled. To all who are in search of a text-book which does not involve, and render necessary to the study of it a knowledge of the higher mathematics, we heartily commend this work. It is particularly well adapted to classes in the higher grades of our public schools and academies.

Query.

If a man start from Beaver at noon on Wednesday, and travel with the sun, (id est, as fast as the sun) once round the earth, inquiring each hour the day and time of day, when, (by the time at Beaver) and at what meridian or point on the way will the inhabitants cease to tell him that it is Wednesday noon; and when will he be first told that it is Thursday noon?

Mathematical.

If 40 lemons are equal in value to 30 pineapples, and 42 pine-apples are equal to 60 cocoa nuts, how many cocoa nuts must be given for 210 lemons, when pine apples are worth 10 cents each?

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The State Convention of the Republican party met in Philadelphia on the 11th inst.—Wm. Wilkins, Esq., was made temporary chairman. Several committees were appointed, when the Convention took a recess until 7 P. M. On reassembling the following proceedings took place:

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

At this session the Convention was called to order, when the Committee on Permanent Organization made their report, as follows:

President—General Lemuel Todd.

Vice Presidents—Messrs. G. H. T. Collis, Charles M. Prevost, Henry Bumm, William J. F. White, General William Mintzer, Chas. E. McDowell, Henry J. Darlington, R. G. Winn, John G. Kleinman, General H. L. Dubs, Hon John Strohm, William J. Turrell, Major Ackerly, S. Levy Maris, Colonel Samuel Knorr, Samuel T. Shugert, Joseph G. Peters, Capt Charles Denniss, J. Francis, A. J. Cover, Major D. Washington Gross, James A. Beaver, Milton S. Latham, D. B. Hayes, B. J. Reid, General J. H. Wilson, Joseph Watson, Joseph A. Butler, John O. Boyd, James S. McDaikin, George E. Anderson, D. F. Denkinson.

Secretaries, Captain R. W. Morgan, J. H. Shoevenant, William R. Leeds, A. G. Henry, A. K. Stauffer, Col. William O. Gray, Wm S. Moore.

Sergeant-at-Arms, James Pearson, B. W. Thomas, James Snyder.

The report was accepted and adopted.

Colonel Mann then designated Judge Maxwell, of Northumberland, and T. N. Marshall, of Allegheny, as committee to inform General Todd of his election, and conduct him to the chair. The duty was performed, and General Todd took the chair amid loud applause.

NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT.

Letter from Gov. Geary.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 11, 1868.—To the Hon. Chairman and Members of the Convention:—GENTLEMEN—My name has been used in connection with the nomination of the Republican State Convention now in session for the office of Vice President of the United States. I learn that a number of delegates have been chosen with instructions to support me for that position. I have not been a candidate before the people, but am not insensible to the honor proposed to be conferred.

In 1866 the people of Pennsylvania manifested their confidence by elevating me to the highest and most responsible position in their gift, with the understanding that I should perform the executive duties of the Commonwealth for the period of three years. But a little more than one-third of that time has expired and I feel bound to fulfill the balance of my contract, unless the people themselves desire that it be sooner annulled. I am moreover delighted with and thankful for the favors I have received, and have no aspirations for greater honors. I therefore respectfully request that my name may not be brought before the convention for any position whatever.

An ardent desire for the harmony of the Republican party, and consequently for the welfare of the country, actuates me in this as under all other circumstances; and without an expression of opinion in reference to any candidate, I will only remark that my best efforts will be devoted to the election of the nominees of the convention, and for the maintenance and ascendency of true Republican principles. I am deeply thankful to my friends whose spontaneous efforts have been made in my behalf, and can only return to them my grateful acknowledgements for the compliment intended.

With high respect, your friend and obedient servant, JOHN W GEARY.

Mr. Swope offered a resolution, that General U S Grant and Andrew G Curtin, be the choice of this Convention as the candidates for President and Vice President of the United States.

On the question, Shall the resolution be adopted, a division was called for, and the nomination of General U S Grant, as the candidate for President, was unanimously agreed to, on motion of Mr JOHN S MANN, from Potter county.

On the adoption of that part of the resolution, nominating ex-Governor Curtin for Vice President, the yeas and nays were demanded, and the delegates voted as follows, viz:

THE PLATFORM.

Thos E Cochran, from the Committee on Resolutions, then reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, viz:

Resolved, That the great Republican party of America—without which the rebellion against the Government would have consummated the division of the Union, and perpetuated human slavery, with the aid, comfort and full approval of the present Democratic party—is in the fore front of another peril and another trial. Electing its candidate for President in 1860, and re-electing him in 1864, it is now called upon to decide whether all the sacrifices of blood and treasure have not only been in vain, but were simply contributions for the restoration of treason under the influence of a man who, clothed with the confidence of his country, is prevented from overthrowing the Government solely by the wise and patriotic stand taken by a loyal Congress.

Resolved, That we add our voice to the loud acclaim in favor of Ulysses S Grant as the Republican candidate for President of the United States and in so doing we feel that we are not simply responding to the wishes of our constituents, or helping to pay a portion of the debt we owe to that great soldier, but that we are preparing the way for that substantial triumph which while perpetuating the Republican party, preserves and perpetuates the Republican creeds.

Resolved, That we earnestly call upon the Senate of the United States sitting as a court of impeachment, to proceed without fear, favor or affection. And that the people of Pennsylvania will stand by and maintain the just judgment of the law.

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors of the Union who fought and conquered armed rebellion in the field, and stand true to the principles which they vindicated and the flag which floated over them and led them to victory, are entitled to the undying gratitude of all loyal people. And as they saved the country by their trials, sufferings and sacrifices they have considerable claims to the highest honors of the nation.

Resolved, That we tender our most cordial thanks to the Hon Edwin M Stanton for the firmness, courage, and patriotism with which he has maintained the majesty of the law and the rights of the people against the attempted invasions of a faithless Executive and his purchased instruments.

Resolved, That as experience is alike the best instructor of men and nations, so the experience of the rebellion has given us renewed confidence in the pledges and precepts of the Declaration of Independence, and that with these as our guiding stars, the Republican party must always succeed.

Resolved, That the purity of the ballot-box should be carefully guarded as of vital importance to the best interests of the country, and that this Convention deem a just and impartial registry law to be necessary to protect us from the astounding frauds which have heretofore been perpetuated.

Resolved, That no contrast so eloquent could be presented as that between the loud professions of Andrew Johnson and the silent professions of Ulysses S Grant, that as the one deals in promises to deceive, the other deals in acts that convince; and that while Johnson has fallen rapidly away from his many voluntary convenants, Grant has accepted equal justice and radical Republicanism as a part alike of conscience and of duty.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the administration of State affairs by Governor John W Geary, in which he has proved himself efficient in the cabinet as in the field, an able and successful statesman since the war as he was an able and successful general, during the war; and he merits the confidence of the people of Pennsylvania, and we pledge him the continued support of the Republican party of the State.

Resolved, That the public debt, incurred for the purpose of preserving the existence of the nation, is a sacred obligation, binding the people to its payment in the utmost good faith, and to the full extent of its legal requirements; and that the greatest prudence, judgment and skill are requisite, and should, as far as attainable be employed at once to maintain the public faith, and credit, and render the burden, of which no loyal citizen should complain, as light as practicable upon the productive industry of the country and the wages and proceeds of labor.

Resolved, That it is the desire of the people, as well as of the greatest wisdom, that the domestic industry of the country should be sustained and protected against foreign competition by adequate tariff laws, and that in whatever particulars the existing laws on the subject are defective, they should be amended and made efficient for that purpose, as well as for the purpose of raising of revenue for the Government.

Resolved, That by the election of General Grant to the Presidency all domestic dissensions and factious opposition to the complete reconstruction of the Union on the firm foundation laid by wise and judicious legislation of Congress, will be immediately suppressed and harmony and good feeling restored, settled relations of business established, and the revival and improvement of all the disturbed sources of national wealth and prosperity will be secured when it is once made manifest that the people of this country are firmly fixed in their determination that the fruits of the late bloody and obstinate struggle shall not be lost, and that the factious and rebellious resistance to the laws shall be as effectually overthrown as under the military hostility which attempted to subvert the government by savage cruelty, rapine and murder.

Resolved, That Pennsylvania proudly tenders to the loyal people of the Union Hon Andrew G Curtin, her great war Governor and the soldiers' friend.

Resolved, That every American citizen, whether by birth or adoption, is entitled to the protection of the nation and its flag, and while it is incumbent on the Government to initiate negotiations for the establishment of an international law of expatriation, recognizing naturalization by one nation as terminating the allegiance due to another, and conferring all rights of citizenship, it is no less its duty to vindicate its people from all charges of oppression or interference at home and abroad, when in the legitimate and peaceful exercise of their legal and personal rights.

Resolved, That in General John F Hartranft and Colonel Jacob M Campbell, our nominees for re-election to the important State officers of Auditor General and Surveyor General, we recognize brave soldiers who bled and shared with gallant "boys in blue," in the sanguinary strife against rebels in arms, and who have since proved themselves to be competent, faithful and upright officers in time of peace; and we confidently commend them to the suffrages of a people who have not forgotten to be grateful to the defenders of the life of the nation and who love to honor those who exposed themselves, in toil and trial, in camp and bivouac, on the weary march, and the imminent front of battle, that the people might be safe, and the country free and united.

The committee also reported the following resolution:

Resolved, That the delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Republican Convention, to be held in Chicago in the ensuing month of May, be and they are hereby instructed to cast their vote as a unit through the chairman in favor of General Ulysses S Grant for President, and Andrew G Curtin for Vice President, they being the distinctly declared choice of the people of this State for those positions, and that the right of substitution for absent delegates shall be solely with the delegation from the State.

This resolution led to a lengthy discussion, in which John S. Mann, Russell Errett, W. S. Purviance, Thomas M. Marshall, and Thos. M. Bayne participated against the same.

H. Bucher Swope, A. K. M'Clure, Wm. B. Mann and several other gentlemen advocated the adoption of the resolution. Finally the yeas and nays were called and the resolution was adopted by yeas 89, nays 40, as follows:

A TERRIBLE Steamboat explosion occurred near Cincinnati Ohio, on last Wednesday. The boilers of the steam packet Magnolia exploded on that day, and it is ascertained that between forty and fifty passengers lost their lives in consequence of the casualty.

THE Pittsburgh Gazette came to us last week in a new dress, and in quarto form. This, we believe, is the fourth change made in its mechanical appearance within the last two years. It is now a very neat specimen of typographical skill, and contains a vast amount of well written editorial matter, besides the best selections from other journals which the "market" affords. The Gazette, in the future, as in the past, will be a bold, outspoken advocate of the principles of the Republican party.

Opinion of Attorney General Black.

We quote from the "Opinion of Attorney General Black upon the powers of the President." "To the Chief Executive Magistrate of the Union is confided the solemn duty of seeing the laws faithfully executed. But his power is to be used only in the manner prescribed by the legislative department. He cannot accomplish a legal purpose by illegal means, or break the laws himself to prevent them from being violated by others. The acts of Congress sometimes give the President broad discretion in the use of the means by which they are to be executed and sometimes limit his power so that he can exercise it only in a certain prescribed manner. When the law directs a thing to be done without saying how, that implies the power to use such means as may be necessary and proper to accomplish the end of the Legislature. But where the mode of performing a duty is pointed out by statute, that is the exclusive mode and no other can be followed. The United States have no common law to fall back upon when the written law is defective. If therefore, an act of Congress declares that a certain thing shall be done by a particular officer, the agency which the law furnishes for its own execution must be used to the exclusion of all others."

If J. Black, as attorney for A. Johnson, can manage to controvert the above opinion of the Hon. J. Black, Attorney-General, he will perform a feat which will make him worthy to stand beside the great apostate whom he must take for his example.—Tribune.

THE returns of the elections held in this county on last Friday are gratifying, to us in every sense of the term. "We have met the enemy and they are ours" comes to us from almost every election precinct in the county. The result of all this information is a desire on the part of our poultry to flap his wings and crow, but we have suggested to him the propriety of wounding the feelings of a fallen foe as little as possible. He therefore agrees to make but little noise at the present time, but notifies us now that in the fall he will have his own way and crow and flap, and flap and crow to his heart's content.

As far as we have taken the pains to study the returns that have been brought in we have lost no where, but have gained everywhere in the county. We give a few instances:

In Beaver borough we last fall had about two votes to the cops one. This spring we have very nearly three to their one.

In Brighton township the cops last spring elected their whole township ticket, excepting one of the inspectors. In the fall we beat them, but our majority only reached to four. This spring we elect our whole ticket by a majority of about 25.

Moon township gave the Republican ticket a majority last year of 47. At the election last Friday our ticket had a majority of 65.

Fallston has been in the habit for a number of years past, of electing a "fusion" local ticket. This has not been advantageous to the party. At the election last fall we had a majority of 8. The Republicans this spring took the offensive, nominated a straight party ticket and elected it by more than two to one.

The Republicans of Rochester borough last spring listened to "fusion" entreaties, and "fused" with their opponents. It had an effect so injurious that last fall our majority ran down to 28. This spring better counsels prevailed, a straight Republican ticket was nominated, and elected by 50 of a majority.

We might mention a score of other localities in the county showing as large gains as the above, but our space forbids.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE is just now occupying a very equivocal position before the country. A great many well disposed but observing people lay the delay of Jeff Davis' trial at his door and insist that his influence always was and always will be used to let the arch traitor escape without even going through the form of a trial for his great crime. More recently his conduct in the matter of impeaching the President, has aroused the fears of the leading Republicans of the country. They do not believe now that he is the Salmon P. Chase of a few months ago. Then he was understood and trusted by all; now doubt and uncertainty as to his future political course have taken possession of the public mind.—But few know where he stands, or what he intends to do. The National Intelligencer—Andy Johnson's organ—a few days ago suggested the name of the Chief Justice as a suitable candidate for the Democratic party for President. If this was done with his knowledge and consent, it is to be feared that he has fallen a victim to his private grievances. He desired to be the nominee of the Republican party, and since he finds that the people are overwhelmingly for Grant, he may have adopted the idea that the Republican party was acting ungratefully toward him, and that now is his time to break it to pieces by acting with its enemies and possibly becoming their Presidential candidate. If this is his programme, he will fail. Seward tried to carry out a project almost similar to this, and a more stupendous failure was never witnessed in political manœuvring.

THE death of the Hon. David Wilmot of this State is announced as having occurred at his residence in Towanda, Bradford county. He was among the prominent Republicans of the State. In 1845 he was elected to Congress and served in that body till 1851. His name was brought prominently before the country by an anti-slavery proviso, moved by him, at a time when abolitionism was as odious as it is now honorable. The proviso was a direct blow against the institution, and its discussion carried his name beyond the limits of the country. It constituted a solid centre around which free institutions crystallized, and did much to pave the way for those grand results that brighten the current hour. He was a United States Senator from Pennsylvania from 1861 to 1863, filling the unexpired term of Simon Cameron, and served upon the Committees on Foreign Affairs, Claims, and Pensions. In 1861 he was a delegate to the Peace Congress, and was made Judge of the Court of Claims in 1863, by President Lincoln. Mr. Wilmot's distinction was almost wholly based upon his anti-slavery position, though he was clear headed and earnest in all matters that he took in hand.

THE Houston (Texas) Telegraph issued an extra on the 26th of February containing the following telegram, purporting to have been received from Washington. We take it that this is the process by which the editor of the Telegraph proposes to again "fire the southern heart:"

HOUSTON TELEGRAPH—EXTRA!

TUESDAY MORNING, Feb. 25, 1868.

WAR! WAR!! WAR!!!—THE PRESIDENT IMPEACHED! THE FIRST GUN FIRED!—THREE WOMEN MURDERED!—THIRTEEN KILLED!—THIRTY-SEVEN WOUNDED!—ANDREW JOHNSON A PRISONER!—GENERAL THOMAS KILLED!—STANTON'S LEG BROKEN!—WAR DEPARTMENT BURNED!—SHERMAN WITH THE PRESIDENT!—GRANT DECLARES HIMSELF DICTATOR!—SECRETARY SEWARD RESIGNED!—GENERAL WAR INEVITABLE!—ETC., ETC., ETC.

[Our Special Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—6¼ A. M.—On the twenty-third ballot, which closed at twenty minutes past three o'clock this morning, the House majority for impeachment was sixty-four.

At 5 o'clock, Gen. Grant ordered Col. Carr, of Emory's staff to arrest General Thomas, which order was immediately carried into effect.

On the first charge General Thomas was killed; and on the second the President was captured.

The War Department was burned to the ground.

Three women—Sisters of Charity—were killed by the soldiers.

Thirteen persons were killed—five of whom were merchants.

Secretary Stanton's leg was broken by the falling of his horse in an effort to make his escape from the city.

Gen. Grant has declared himself military dictator, and has established his headquarters on Pennsylvania avenue. The Capitol and all public buildings are closed.

All newspaper offices, save the Express have been suspended.

Sherman calls for three hundred thousand ninety days troops. He has espoused the cause of the President—ordered General Hancock to take command of the department south of the Ohio river, and pledges himself to stand by the Constitution and the Union.

Secretary Seward sent in his resignation yesterday evening—says he will stand or fall with the President and the Constitution.

Gen. Grant has ordered the city of New York to be placed under matial law.

THE President through his counsel, made answer to the articles of impeachment presented against him by the House of Representatives, on Monday the 23d inst. He puts in a general denial to the charges, and asks for a continuance of thirty days. This is not agreed to by the managers, but the actual time at which the trial will begin is not yet fixed. The general impression prevails however that on Monday next, the case will be taken up and tried with as little unnecessary delay as possible. Judge Jeremiah S. Black has withdrawn from the case and no longer appears among the President's counsellors. It is said that he advised the President to resign, and on his refusal to do so withdrew from the case entirely, and intends to have nothing more to do with A. J. or his sinking fortunes.

HON. EDWARD MCPHERSON, Clerk of the House of Representatives, in a dispatch to the Gettysburg Star and Sentinel, (of which he is the editor) under date of Wednesday, expresses himself as follows concerning the impeachment of the President:

"The impression about Washington is deepening that the President's conviction and removal are inevitable. This is the candid judgment of both friends and foes. I have recently heard from two different sources that one of the most eminent of the President's counsel has substantially abandoned all hope of acquittal. The others doubtless sympathize in this apprehension—the President's record, made up by himself, being conclusive as to his deliberate and purposed violation of law.

From the Dubuque (Iowa) Times, March 4.

A young man is now stopping at the Key City House, by the name of George W. Porter, whose parents, brothers, sisters, and relatives, were all murdered at Redwood, Minnesota, in the great Indian massacre of 1861. He is the sole survivor, and was the only one left to communicate the mournful intelligence to the nearest settlement. Bereft in one brief hour of all that he held dear on earth, and with the victims of savage ferocity extended in death before him, took a solemn vow of vengeance. How well he has performed that vow, the reader may judge when we state that in six years young Porter has, alone, and with the assistance of nothing but his trusty rifle, sent to the happy hunting grounds the souls of one hundred and eight Indian braves. He carries a piece of canebreak, about twelve inches in length, and whenever he killed an Indian he would make a notch in this. One hundred and eight notches are now to be counted on the piece of cane alluded to, the last one being cut on Christmas, 1866. Surely young Porter has been an avenging Nemesis on the footsteps of those who slaughtered his kindred. The Indians killed embrace representatives from nearly every tribe on the plains. By night and by day he has followed them through the trackless forests, over desert wastes, by the mountain side and in the lonely glen has he pursued his victims until the crack of the rifle and the death yell proclaimed that another redskin had been sent to his final account, and sated with blood the vengeance of his pursuer. Porter had not passed through all these perilous scenes unscathed. His body has been riddled by eleven bullets and stabbed in thirty-three places by the knife. But he has withstood all, come out victorious, and now exhibits with pride the trophies of his prowess. Truly his parents and relatives have been deeply, terribly avenged.

Rumors of a Rebel Conspiracy.

"Whether he knows the accidental President will remain quiet until the trial is ended may know human nature, but he certainly does not understand that of A. J. One thing is certain, that quiet as all appears on the surface, the greatest apprehensions of a serious collision here are felt by parties who have the best means of judging, and the largest stake in the issues. Perhaps I may be considered sensational, if I say that Secretary Stanton has excellent reasons for apprehending an attempt to obtain control by force of his Department. Yet what I state is the simple truth. You may rest assured that Mr. Stanton is well informed of the movements going on in this city and vicinity. They are dangerous. Of that there can be no doubt. The President has definitely taken another step forward in the certain and direct collision which he evidently seeks. As you know, the Adjutant-General took his seat at the Cabinet meeting, in his ad interim character. At the Cabinet Mr. Johnson demanded of his Secretaries that they fall to recognize Mr. Stanton. It is understood that Thomas will issue orders looking to a forcible occupation of what he calls "My Department," also that in relieving Hancock, he will as Secretary of War, issue an order forming the Military Division of the Atlantic, and place the General in command. Grant will, it is believed, refuse to promulgate them. Thomas will persist in issuing them. Grant is to be placed under arrest for disobedience, Gen. Emory, it is understood, is to be placed in this position first. Gen. Gordon Granger has been here for some weeks. He is in thorough sympathy with Andy. Hancock will soon be here. The commandant of this post (not Emory, who commands the Department) is also reported to be in sympathy with Andy. It is declared on good authority, too, that among the themes which have been seriously discussed, is one for the seizure of the Capitol, and the preventing of Congress from assembling. All these, and many others of a similar nature, are not made public. The effort is to keep them quiet. They come to me through credible channels. I do not vouch for them, but only mention them as among the strong probabilities of the situation. There is one suspicious fact. The town is full of Maryland rebels, as well as numbers from the extreme South. Two-thirds of the visitors here are of that section. The "down-the Potomac" smugglers, mail carriers and guerrillas of the Rebellion have been represented here quite largely. Men who were trained in the secret service declare that scores of the most notorious of these men have been and are in the city. Persons known to be in the most confidential relations with the President have been seen in communication with such men. When I say that at the War Department and Army Headquarters these things are known, watched and prepared for, I only speak with due moderation. It is known that on one occasion at least and others are reported, Generals Grant and Howard were summoned to Headquarters after midnight; the reason being the gathering at different points near the War Department of several bodies of men, in groups of from two to six, and the fact that communication was evidently going on among them by means of signals, such as whistles, calls, &c. Within a short time, a new secret Copperhead organization has been started here. Cornelius Wendell is the prime mover in it. There are three divisions or "chapters" as they are termed, already organized. Two of them are commanded by ex-Rebel Colonels. They give out their design to be protection against a negro raid, which they declare will occur when the Impeachment trial begins. These and many others we know of, are straws which serve to show the public what is talked of at least. They are worth nothing at any rate, because they show how absolutely essential to the peace and welfare of the country it is to compass, legally the removal of Johnson. "Impeachment is Peace."

Major General John F. Hartranft.

Major General John F. Hartranft, the candidate, for the second time, of the Republican party of Pennsylvania for the office of Auditor General, although young in years, has made for himself a name that will last as long as the story of our war. He is a citizen of Montgomery county, and adds to a tried military genius and unimpeached integrity high, social and intellectual claims. To the very first demands of the country for men General Hartranft responded in person. He left Norristown with a regiment raised under the call of the martyred Lincoln, issued April 15, 1861, his own commission bearig date April 25.—From that time to the end of the war he served continuously on the field—first as Colonel of the 4th Pennsylvania, a three-months organization, and, on the disbanding of that regiment, as Colonel of the 51st Pennsylvania volunteers, which he commanded until May 12, 1864, when he received a commission as brigadier general, and was assigned to a command commensurate with his rank. We have not time to recite in detail the brilliant services of our distinguished candidate. It is only necessary to mention further that his commission as major general bears the ever memorable date of the capture of Fort Steadman—that splendid achievement which illustrated the closing days of the war, and crowned with imperishable fame all who participated in it. This was on the 25th of March, 1865. Gen. Hartranft was complimented on the field for his dashing and well-sustained charge. After the close of active hostilities, Gen. Hartranft was retained in the army on provost duty, having charge of the troops detailed for that service during the trial of the conspirators.—On his muster out he was offered the colonelcy of the 34 Regiment United States Infantry, which for private reasons he declined. This same commission was then tendered to Gen. Pennypacker. August 17, 1865, Gen. Hartranft was nominated by the Republican State Convention, sitting at Harrisburg, as the candidate of the party for Auditor General, in office which he has for three years filled to the rare satisfaction of the people of the State. A brave soldier, a competent, public officer, an honest man, we put him foward again, and confidently await the result.—Phila. Press.

Colonel Jacob M. Campbell.

Colonel Jacob M. Campbell, of Cambria county, placed in nomination last week by the Republicans for the Surveyor Generalship of the State, is a veteran of the west, and a worthy comrade of his eastern compeer, Gen. Hartranft, who now divides with him the honors and gratitude of the Commonwealth. He entered the service July 31, 1861, under the call of that month, as colonel of the 54th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, and served out his full term. Across the Alleghenies Colonel Campbell's name is a tower of strength. Hard service through the war, high personal character at home, and an unblemished official record, commend him successfully to the substantial yeomanry of the State. Like Hartranft, he is not a politician, having never held office before the war, and having never asked or worked for it at any time. It is worthy of note that on the ticket which we offer to-day the offices have both sought the men.—Phila. Press.

The Rebel Stephens's Opinion of Gen. Grant.

An ex-Confederate in a note to an Atlanta paper writes: "Much has been said regarding the mental capacity of General Grant. It will be remembered, that in 1864, when the Confederate Peace Commissioners went through the lines at Petersburg, Va., Mr. Stephens, the Confederate Vice President, was one of the Commissioners. He visited General Grant's headquarters at City Point, and was in company with the General several days. Upon his return to Richmond, he was asked all about General Grant, and his answer was, that General Grant was a man of no ordinary ability. Now, who is more capable of judging human nature than Alexander H. Stephens?"

Ketchum the Forger.

A pardon report is being made to procure the pardon of Ketchum, the New York forger. Of late, a large number of letters have been forwarded to the Governor, pallitiating for his pardon. From these and other facts which are public in the minds of the offended, among the most remarkable occurrences in the history of crime. At the time of the perpetration of the offense he was only twenty-four years old, and from the early age of twenty-one had been a partner in the banking house of Ketchum, Son & Co., one of the wealthiest and most extensive in the United States. So far from being idle, dissipated, or prodigious, the united testimony of many of the best men in the community bears evidence that he was extremely industrious, of modest and retiring habits, and frugal but not parsimonious in his expenditures. Says Rev. William Adams, pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church:

"I have been acquainted with Edward B. Ketchum for eight or nine years. As the pastor of his father's family during this time I have had peculiar opportunities for knowing his character and habits. Never was he so much as suspected of any act inconsistent with purity of morals and the strictest decorum of life. From a youth he has ever borne an unblemished name, as the pride of his father; tender and well-beloved in the sight of his mother. Marrying a lovely Christain lady, he was remarkable for his quiet, unostentatious, and domestic habits. So far from being extravagant, he was unusually simple and modest in his ways of living."

Reconstruction.

The great work of reorganizing government in the disabled States is moving steadily and successfully forward, the perversity of Andrew Johnson to the contrary notwithstanding.

Florida and Louisiana have completed their Constitutions; Mississippi, Georgia, and North and South Carolina, have nearly completed their work in Convention, and are preparing for the campaign for the ratification of their Constitutions. In all of these States it is conceded that good Constitutions have been framed, and it is believed they will be ratified by the people.

In Arkansas an excellent Constitution has been framed and submitted to the people.—The vote upon its ratification will be had this present month.

In Alabama the ratification has been defeated by a few thousand votes, but the defeat will be remedied by ordering a new election in the counties which failed to vote, or by waiving the requirements of a clear majority of the registered voters.

There is, in fact, but a single obstacle to the speedy restoration of the States, that is a hostile Executive. He has still some power for evil, with no purpose to do good. But there is hope and prospect that he will be removed for the crimes he has already committed.

Why the Country Will Go for Grant.

The New York Times clearly sets forth the reason why the country will go for General Grant for President: "Every day makes it more certain that he will be the candidate of the Republican party,—and we are very much mistaken in our construction of public sentiment if the conviction is not every day growing stronger, with considerate and reflecting men out of the Republican party as well as in it, that his accession to the Presidency offers the best, if not the only feasible, solution of the troubles and complications of the political situation. Even those who most distinctly and emphatically condemn the policy of Congress, and who distrust the whole Radical theory of Reconstruction, see and deprecate the danger of so violent and so sweeping a reaction as the advent of the Democracy to power would bring about. Such a victory would settle nothing; it would simply change the shape of the controversy and would prolong and embitter instead of ending it. General Grant unites in his support, as he would unite in support of his Administration, the whole of the Republican party; and it seems certain that under his guidance, acting in harmony with his wise, moderate and patriotic sentiments, and entertaining no distrust of his motives or his aims, Congress could easily surmount all the difficulties it has encountered hitherto, and give us the peaceful and beneficient restoration the country has so long desired."

Senator Wade's Position.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says that in conversation on Thursday, Mr. Wade remarked that since the impeachment of the President he had been so beset by office-hunters that he had not a moment that he could call his own. Mr. Wade pronounced as utterly without foundation the statement that he had any intention of resigning, or that he had gone to Mr. Patterson of Tennessee and offered to pair off with him in all votes which might be taken during the impeachment trial. When asked what he thought of the defense as challenging his vote he replied that was not a matter personal to him but to the State of Ohio; that the Constitution gave every State in the Union two votes, and that Ohio could not be deprived of her equal voice on the trial. The question was then put as to the right of Southern States to be represented, when he replied that that would admit of no discussion. The Senate by the full vote of all the Republican members would refuse to entertain any such question.

WE find the following in the correspondence of a Cincinnati paper, from a writer who is usually very well informed:

It has been published that even the faithful Seward has given Johnson up. The story is a true, but without a statement of the circumstances of the admission it is unjust to the veteran who, after helping to organize the Republican party, has found this ending for all the ambitions of his political life. "Yes, I suppose the case may be considered hopeless," said Mr. Seward. "A priori, we may see how under existing conditions the trial can only end in Mr. Johnson's conviction and expulsion from office. But of one thing I know I may assure you—it cannot by any possibility be done short of ninety days.

In the Ohio Legislature a few days since, Christopher Hughes, of Butler county, in the old Vallandigham district, got off the following impulsive passage in a political harangue: "I would rather trust the Democratic party in political matters than God Almighty." Hughes is said to be a candidate for Congress in the Third District, now represented by Gen. Schenck. As the Republicans have a majority of nearly two thousand in the district, it is not probable that Mr. Hughes will succeed in his aspirations.

IS THE New Hampshire election constitutional? Why should not A. J. appoint an ad interim fellow for Governor just to test the constitutionality of Republican majorities? They interfere with A. J.'s plans quite as seriously as the civil tenure bill, and if the President is not bound to obey a law until it is pronounced constitutional, why obey an election until it has the same high approval?

GOV. SEYMOUR is given to what in the mildest language is exaggeration. He asserts that under Republican management $150,000,000 is required for a standing army in the South. The truth is the General-in-Chief estimates the expense of the whole army establishment in the South, on the frontier, and on garrison duty elsewhere at less than half that sum. But a few millions more or less is a matter of no consequence when Seymour has a point to make or a prejudice to inflame.

The next session commences March 31st.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. James Fortune of Rochester. He has a large and varied assortment of Dry Goods &c., &c., which he proposes to sell to the people of this vicinity at Pittsburgh prices. When you need anything in his line, give him a call.

The Steubenville Herald, of last Wednesday says the body of a man was found in the Ohio river above this city. The remains are those of quite a large man. The body was clothed in a white shirt, a pair of barred pantaloons, dark coat and fine boots. The deceased had side whiskers.

"How Are You Reaction?"—At the general election held last fall in Rochester borough, this county, the person having the highest number of votes was Judge Williams, our candidate for Supreme Judge. His majority was 28. At the election held in that borough on last Tuesday one week ago, party lines were again strictly drawn. Each organization did its best during the coming Presidential election in view. O. H. Coe, Esq., our candidate for Justice of the Peace led his ticket, and his majority, over the most popular man the coon had, was 61. Our whole ticket of course is elected. It will be seen from this that our majority one year last fall was just doubled. In view of this fact, we again say, how are you "reaction."

Lines written on the death of Mr. Joseph Croft who was drowned in Break-neck on the eighth of March, 1868.

Let truth and wisdom guide my pen,
While writing to the sons of men;
A sad disaster to relate,
Concerning a young husband's fate.

It was on the eighth of March,
When he was crossing o'er the tide;
'Twas little, I suppose, he thought
About the death he died.

The rolling current stopped his breath,
And left his body cold in death.
But where he's now the Lord knows best;
We hope he is in Heaven at rest.

His earthly toils, they now are o'er,
We hope he's gained that blissful shore;
And when we die, as die we must,
We hope to meet him with the just.

Two children and a wife he's left,
But God knows always what is best,
For he, his own will take away;
He had no longer time to stay.

Young people, all, both far and near,
Your dying hour will soon appear,
And that great day will surely come,
When God will roll the judgment on.

Where now does this young husband lie?
Let a watery grave make the reply;
And all who wish a joyful doom,
Be aware the warning from the tomb.

M. M. C.

Promoted, &c.—The numerous friends of Rev. J. S. Bracken of this place, will be glad to learn that he has been promoted in the church of his choice.—At the annual conference held in Greensburg last week, he was created a Presiding Elder, and will have charge of the Barnesville District of the M. E. Church. Rev. Mr. Hollingshead has been appointed by the Conference to take charge of the M. E congregation in this place.

Wind Was Left.—On last Thursday night between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, the citizens of Beaver were startled from their slumbers by the loud and long continued ringing of the old cannon, which has been silent for many years. Old and young waked up, rubbed their eyes, and either mentally or orally inquired what was that? Of course no one just then could give an intelligent answer. Some supposed there was a fire, and others that the Democracy had carried the State, but few, if any, thought of the real cause. Many considered it a foolish business, and were evidently disposed to censure the "perpetrators" of the deed. The supposition was that some wretch, who had recently received justice, not mercy, at the hands of our courts, fired Guy Fawkes like, secreted a keg of powder under the Court house, and with a slow match touched it off and blew the temple of justice high into the air. But this fiendish purpose failed, for the Court House, with its two wings reaching east and west, and its cupola pointing up as grand and as stately as ever. Not a timber was shivered, not a brick moved from its place, not a stone upturned.

Morning at length came. It was cheerless, murky, raw. The heads of families sallied out to hear what had taken place during the night. Acquaintance with the law of gravitation, they tended toward the centre of the town. Neither person or property was found to be injured there. They were about to give up all efforts to ascertain "what the matter was," when a resident of the Diamond, especially informed them that the "old cannon"—a piece of artillery that has done service in and about Beaver for nearly a half a century—had been fired off the night before, just previous to the "witching hour." The cannon itself was not to be found, no trace of it was seen, but the aforesaid resident of the Diamond was willing to make an "affidavit" nevertheless, that it was it that made the rockin ring the night before. He was not sworn. Subsequent light on this dark subject went to show that his averments to the fact, that it was the "old cannon" sure enough, that raised "Ned," and thereby hangeth a tale."

This piece of artillery has been public property, as we have before remarked, for a great many years. On all festive occasions it was brought forth, and its loud peals made the hills of Beaver ring out the glad shouts of the multitude. When political parties were called Whig and Democratic, it was a neutral cannon, and would participate in the festivities of either party, as occasion required. But for the last six or seven years it has shown a decided aversion to doing duty in any way that seemed to make it rejoice in Democratic victories. The pressure brought to bear upon it for the purpose of overcoming this seeming conscientiousness was great, but the "old cannon" stoutly resisted. Last fall however, it yielded. It agreed to mingle its "voice" with the Democratic shoutings. It was accordingly taken to the brow of the hill between Beaver and Bridgewater, and there fired off time after time, in honor of Sharswood's victory. It was noticed at the time that its tones were low, sullen, and apparently forced. Whether it knew of the frauds that the Democratic party had committed just before in Luzerne and Centre counties, or whether it was reflecting upon the disloyalty of the Democratic party during the war, we cannot say, but certain it is that its old friends gathered from its conduct on that occasion, that it had no stomach for such a feast.

After using the "old cannon" on that occasion too, its new found friends treated it badly. Instead of taking care of it, as its age and previous services merited by finding suitable quarters for it to winter in, they cruelly and contemptuously dung it aside, and left it exposed to the frosts, the winds and snows of winter, Ungrateful wretches! Some three weeks ago the election in New Hampshire was held. Previous to that the Cops hereabouts, thought the Republicans might have work for the "old cannon" when the result in New Hampshire was known. To prevent any demonstration of that character, they clandestinely, and at the dead hour of night, brought the old "piece" back to Beaver, unlimbered it, hid the carriage, and buried the gun itself on the lot of one of their number, who was to defend and hold it forevermore or "die in the attempt." He had a dog and a pistol, and with these he would like to see the man or the men who could take his artillery from him.

The G. A. R.'s have a Post in Beaver. Its number is 99. Its members are ex-soldiers who have helped to take cannon before. They understand the business in all its various branches. In fact they are at home on work of that kind. In addition to their cannon capturing experience, they also understand the art of flanking an enemy. We suppose they learned this from Grant. Be this however as it may, they made up their minds some time ago to take the "old gun" into custody, and take it they did, and hold it they will, we suppose, until required to give it up to the powers "that be." But we progress too rapidly in our narrative. On last Thursday evening, when all was ready the whereabouts of the custodian of the "piece" was ascertained, and he was at once engaged in conversation by two or three persons designated for that purpose. While this was taking place, the G. A. R.'s moved out by the left, scaled the fence, found the cannon, carried it off to a secure spot, and then started for the carriage. They soon found it, and taking it to where the gun was left, they mounted the latter and then headed with their capture for the front of the Court house. Here they filled it up with powder and sod, applied the match, and the noise that was then made, occasioned the writing of this "o'er true tale." This last boom of the "old gun" is said to have sounded as loudly as when it was in its youthful days, thereby showing its gratification in being again in the hands of its friends, and out of the clutches of the enemy.—Where it is now we neither know nor care, but satisfied are we, that it is well parked, in good condition, and after the November election the people of the county will certainly hear from the "old gun" again. Thus endeth our tale.

There are two kinds of girls. One is the kind that appears best abroad, the girls that are good for parties, rides, visits, balls, &c., and whose chief delight is in such things. The other is the kind that appears best at home, the girls that are useful and cheerful in the dining room, sick room, and all the precincts of home. They differ widely in character. One is often a torment at home, the other a blessing. One is a moth, consuming everything about her; the other is a sunbeam, inspiring light and gladness all around her pathway. The right education will modify both a little, and thus unite the good qualities of both in one.

UPPER SANDUSKY, OHIO,
March 19th, 1868.

MR. EDITOR: Thinking that some of your readers might wish to hear how times are in the "land of Catfish and Eels" I will endeavor to give you a few items. March came in on Sunday, blushing and smiling.—But before night the clouds began to frown, and on the following morning the storm came, and the severest one of the winter. Many an "old veteran" who had withstood the "battles fiercest brunt," turned his back upon the foe, without making even a feeble resistance.

It was quite cold for a few days, and on Tuesday the 3d, the thermometer came down to fifteen degrees below zero.

In a few days it was warm again, and the rain and "blushing, crushing, rushing," [illegible] prophets to Pharaoh. But the clouds at length broke away, and on Friday morning we had [illegible] tornado, which blew [illegible] and over one mile in width. [illegible] two or three days have been beautiful. We really are drying up fast, and the [illegible] Hummel with ladies promenading [illegible] no object in view apparently, [illegible] a display of "spring finery."

The farmers have already laid off their coats and are preparing to "go in" and make an effort to raise a crop that will excel former years. I think if the farmers would exert energies and economize a little more, they would not have to sing that miserable song, "Hard times," "It won't Pay," and so on.

Pendleton stock is below par here since the election in New Hampshire" and the "Impeachment of Mr. Johnson." The people have become disgusted with the "one man policy." Many who hailed Johnson as their King a few days ago, now exclaim, "I know not the man."

A Correction.—In the last issue of the Argus we copied an article from the Pittsburgh Commercial, headed "A Reverend Drunkard." A correspondent at Darlington requests us to publish the following correction which appeared in the Commercial a day or two later:

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Will you please state to your readers that the reverend gentleman whose [illegible] published by your Monday's supplement, Rev. minister of the Gospel, picked up by the night police in a state of intoxication, &c., was an Irish Catholic priest of doubtful standing in his own Church, as I learn from the Mayor of Allegheny, and not lately officiating, as is inferred by acting as a teacher in Manchester, several lessons indeed he teaches in the gutter, but he is hardly a minister of the Gospel. J.

Spelling Match.—There will be another "Spelling Match" held at the Union School House in this place, on Friday evening next. In the room of those words were spelled correctly, there were missed, making nearly 99 per cent. of all the words, correctly spelled in Miss Tucker's room 97 per cent. of the words were likewise spelled correctly.

Hattie Littell spelled all words without missing; that being the most spelled by any scholar of the school.

A Fine Specimen of Penmanship.—Prof. Fetsch Esq., of Beaver Falls has left at this office a sample of his handiwork by himself at the above named place. It is as white as snow, very strong, and we believe is made without the employment, of any lime whatever. When we have a little leisure time we propose visiting Mr. Patterson's salt works, when we shall be able to give our readers a more detailed notice of them.

The Democrats and Mr. Chase.

Such leading spirits of the Democratic party as Jerry Black, Ward L. Lamon, Montgomery Blair, and Johnson, [illegible] to make a request to make a friend of Mr. Chase. They promised him the support of the whole Democracy, if he would consent to become a candidate for the Presidency. I have heard Charley Eldridge (the Copperhead) declare in the whole House, say that he would vote for Chase, in order to defeat Grant, and the Democrats in general are willing to give Chase the Democratic nomination, if he would only prove to be a decent man in the reconstruction business and in the McArdle case.

But there is another reason for all this. The Democrats of New England, New York and Pennsylvania are the sworn enemies of Mr. Pendleton and of his platform. At the beginning they thought Johnson and Judge Field, or General Dix or Hancock might do to take Andy on with. They are now aware that neither of them will do, and they hope to kill Grant and Pendleton alike with Chase.

I was told, the day previous to Chase's protest in regard to the preliminary steps of the Senate, that Chase would write a letter, and that he would decline peremptorily to preside over the Impeachment Court. A letter in this direction indeed written by Mr. Chase and handed to Senator Pomeroy, but it was suppressed. It is probable that Senator Pomeroy prevailed on Mr. Chase to take it back, but he succeeded only after the very greatest exertions in inducing him to go to the Senate at all. I know that from the commencement Mr. Chase was opposed to impeachment and that he would do all in his power to run it down into the mud. The men who told me so are trustworthy and they never deceived me.

It is a fact that in 1864 Mr. Chase intended to take the stump against Mr. Lincoln, and that his friends had much trouble to make him abandon that idea. The position of Chief Justice is the prize for which he abstained from his purpose. His ambition is unlimited, and everybody in Washington knows how the neglect of the Radical party for his claims effects him.

It is said that the impeachment of Johnson has no more earnest friend than Vallandingham. It is not that Vallandingham has experienced a change of heart; for the Scriptures says of such, "this kind goeth out, but by prayer and fasting;" but the transition of Mr. Wade [illegible] would create a Senatorial vacancy, it is supposed; and this has revived Vallandingham's interest in the politics of the State; and as soon as the House gave the word of impeachment, he began to work for the Senatorial place, with the zeal that distinguishes him when patriotism is united with a lively personal expectation. —Stark County Republican.

WARM WEATHER AND ITS EFFECTS.

Many people especially ladies, complain a this season of the year of general weakness and debility. The use of Speer's Port Grape Wine prevents this. This wine is said to have a most wonderful effect in giving strength, vigor and tone to the whole system; it is extensively used by ladies nursing or about to nurse infants.

Parties from London and Paris order it appreciating it above French wines. It is said to be unsurpassed for summer complaints and for weakly persons. Our druggists have obtained some direct from Mr. Speer. The price is low for so excellent a wine, and every family should have a bottle in the house. —Philadelphia Ledger.

FAIRBANK'S STANDARD SCALES.—These popular Standard Scales which have just received an additional endorsement at the Paris Exposition, where they carried off the Gold Medal and the highest honor over all other competitors from the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, &c., are the most perfect mechanical arrangement ever adopted for all kinds of weighing. They have found their way into every city, town and village in our own land and in all parts of Europe, where they are rapidly superseding all other Scales, but being the most durable and perfect in finish of Scale extant, we do not wonder at the immense demand for them. The depot for the sale in Pittsburgh is at the corner of Wood and Second street, where a full assortment of the different kinds can be found including Standard Weights and Measures. ROOFING SLATE!

TWIN CITY SLATE MINING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

J. S. NEWMYER, 9TH. ANDERSON, J. M. SHALLENBERGER,
President. Secretary. Superintendent.

OFFICE
No. 43 Seventh Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

It is believed that the time has come in the progress of American architecture, when the question will no longer be asked, "What shall we use for roofing?" but, "WHERE CAN WE OBTAIN THE BEST SLATE."

Older countries have long since established the fact, that no material is so well adapted, and so durable, as Slate for covering buildings. Two obstacles to its general use in this country have existed heretofore: first, the transition character of society, which is necessarily opposed to permanency in architecture: and second, the great abundance and low price of lumber. The first impediment is rapidly yielding to time, and riper ideas on the subject of building, and the other must soon give away to the scarcity and advancing price of lumber suitable for roofing purposes.

It is superior to every other in appearance,
It is easily put on,
It saves insurance,
It is fire proof,
It is imperishable.

The Twin City Slate Company's Mines are in Northampton County, Penn'a. The Slate is a beautiful dark blue, unchangeable in color, splits in perfectly smooth pieces of any size required, and can be readily by exposure to the atmosphere. No Slate in the United States is superior to it, in all the qualities essential to a good roof, and we think but little equal to it. It is furnished at the yard in Pittsburg, at the rate of $12.00 a square (one hundred square feet), which with expense of laying, will add about 25 per cent. to the cost of a Shingle roof.

ROCHESTER FOUNDRY.

ANDERSON, PATTERSON & CO.

MANUFACTURERS OF MACHINE CASTINGS' Railway Track and Car Castings, Agricultural Implements, Engine and all other Castings made at a first class Foundry. Also, Stoves, Grate Fronts, Grate Bars, Limon Rack Weights, Mortar-Ware, Kettles, Iron Fences, and all other castings called for, on short notice and of the very best metal.

Also, J. J. Anderson's justly celebrated New Cook Stove for Coal and Wood, which took the

First Premium

At the State Fair recently held at Pittsburgh. This Stove combines many new and important principles, which place it far in advance of all others now in use. Some of the merits claimed for it by the Inventor, are Heavy Metal, Well Proportioned, Beauty of Style and Finish, Ease of Draft, Easily Kept Clean, Requires but little Fuel, and the BEST BAKER EXTANT.

All orders thankfully received and promptly filled.

We Call Attention to the Following Statements:

While living in the East I used several of the most Celebrated Cooking Stoves made in that part of the country, and on my arrival here, I was recommended to purchase the Crystal Palace Stove, (also invented by Mr. Anderson) as being the best. I did so, and used it with good satisfaction. When I saw Mr. Anderson's new Stove, I was attracted by its neat appearance, and on examining its Oven and interior arrangements, found it possessed many advantages over all I had seen. I purchased, and have one now in use. We consider it superior to any we have ever used. It is all the inventor claims, and we think, all that could be desired in a Cooking Stove.

CAPT. GILBERT PENDLETON.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 21st.

Having one of Mr. Anderson's new Stoves in use, I can fully endorse Capt. Pendleton's statement.

JOHN H. WHEELER.

J. WOODRUFF.

Having one of Mr. Anderson's new Stoves in use, we are fully satisfied with its good qualities in all respects.

JOSEPH IRVIN AND WIFE.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 25th.

Having kept house for a long time, and used a great number of Cook Stoves of different patterns and styles, I consider J. J. Anderson's new Stove, in point of economy in fuel, ready cooking and baking for its size, superior to any we have used, and cheerfully recommend it, believing it will render entire satisfaction.

CHAS. LUKINS.

We have one of Mr. J. J. Anderson's new Stoves, manufactured at the Rochester Foundry, and having given it a fair trial, we find it comes fully up to all that has been claimed for it. It heats very rapidly, takes but little fuel, and is a most excellent baker. Mr. Anderson may congratulate himself on having achieved quite a triumph in the line of Cooking Stoves.

Very respectfully,

J. B. BRAGNER.

Ruby Cooking Stove Nos. 7, 8 & 9.

THIS STOVE TOOK THE FIRST PREMIUM A. the State Fair as a Coal Cooking Stove, and at the late County Fair. We use no scrap iron in their manufacture, but make them exclusively of No. 1 Pig Metal, and warrant them in every respect.

The Ruby has the largest oven in the market and consumes but little fuel in baking, owing to to our improved Grate.

GRATE FRONTS AND FENDERS.

We are largely engaged in the manufacture of Grate Fronts and Fenders, which we enamel in an oven constance, second quality and fire finish. This enamel retains its lustre for a long time, will not burn off, and makes a much superior finish to that of Coal Tar.

SUMMER PIECES.

We are also making Sheet Iron Summer Pieces (for which we have applied for a patent) pressed up in a Hydraulic press. They are much lighter than cast Iron, and much cheaper.

HEATING STOVES.

We claim the heaviest heating Stove in the market for the size, and use the best Stock in their construction.

Our patterns are not yet complete, but it is but in action to keep a general assortment in our line.

We also took the Premium at the County Fair for Castings generally, and we have entered in to the best manner in the determination to use the best of Pig Metal and make good work.

We respectfully request a share of the public patronage, and would be pleased to see those wanting anything in our line at our works.

Prices Kept to suit the times.
